Descriptif

15 kilometers - I cycle often.

At Saint-Léonard-des-Bois, take the time to drink in the beautiful landscapes. If you're running out of steam, fuel up on the terrace of a "gastrobistro", where you will find good food and a friendly welcome. Freewheel down to Fresnay-sur-Sarthe, into the mysterious atmosphere of this former walled town with its ruined castle and narrow lanes. Seek out a quiet spot by the River Sarthe, which runs through the town, and dip your feet in the water to cool off before you continue your ride through the countryside.
